

Brief Interview with Dr. Fabien Gosselet (Editor)

Journal of Alzheimer's Disease & Parkinsonism

1. How many years have you been associated with the current research?

8 years

2. What is the research topic you are working on now?

Role of the blood-brain barrier (BBB) in Alzheimer's disease. Influence of the diet on the BBB physiology and in neurodegenerative diseases.

3. What are attributes for a quality article?

Rigor in the analysis and the interpretation of the results, relevance in the cellular/animal models used. Original hypothesis. Adequate controls/protocols used.

4. Do you have any research funding (NIH or other national funding) now?

Grants from my University and from the French foundation against Alzheimer's disease, grants from industrial partners.

5. When did you become an editor of OMICS Journal?

Since the beginning of the JADP, in 2010.

6. Where can the journal find the maximum scope in terms of niche?

In congress

7. What is your greatest career accomplishment?

In few months, I will be laboratory director.

8. How does the published scientific content assist the potential researchers?

For me, the published scientific content is the scientific publications. I think that these latter allow researchers to get in touch with new technologies, new animal/cellular models, new hypothesis, or novel drugs to test.

9. What is the purpose of serving as an editor?

Reviewing some papers, soliciting some other reviewers, having a direct impact on the policy of the journal. Advertising for the journal and strongly encourage other researchers to publish in

10. Do you have any patents?

None

11. Have you contributed any editorials or papers (any types) to OMICS Journals in the past two years?

Yes.

12. Do you plan to contribute any editorials or papers to OMICS Journals in the next year?

Yes.

13. How would you define your experience with OMICS Group?

Very nice. Efficient and Fast reviewing process.

14. Your opinion on conducting Editorial Board meetings at related Conferences?

None

15. Would you recommend OMICS to your friends or colleagues?

Yes.

16. How do you differentiate Journal of Alzheimer's Disease & Parkinsonism with other journals in the field?

JADP is an open access journal with a worldwide readership allowing a large and efficient diffusion of the results and therefore reinforcing the impact of published work. High quality of members of the editorial board provides rigorous and rapid peer review process.
