Editorial

Compared with other branches of medicine, cosmetology and orofacial surgery in their current forms are relatively novel sciences. Recent developments in cosmological-surgical instruments and techniques have opened hopeful doors toward managing cosmological and surgical difficulties that were considered as therapeutical challenges in the recent past. For instance, introduction of the light and laser therapy to the medical world in the current decade was a great step in the progress of these two branches of medicine. Many scientists all over the world have made great strides to optimize these newly-born fields in terms of defining their boundaries and introducing well-developed technical procedures.

Herein, we are excited to introduce the journal of "Cosmetology & Oro Facial Surgery". This journal will serve as an international forum for dermatologists, cosmetologists, plastic surgeons, oral and maxillofacial surgeons, neurosurgeons, ophthalmologists, orthopedists, dentists, anatomists, pathologists and other specialists to share their invaluable and interesting experiments and observation. In this journal, we will publish the latest studies, investigations and methods in the fields of cosmetic procedures, orofacial surgery and reconstruction. We hope that "Cosmetology & Oro Facial Surgery" will provide a good opportunity for you to publish the findings of your studies in the formats of original research articles, review articles, short communications, case reports, conference proceedings, opinion articles, editorials, mini reviews, or clinical/medical images.

Our success in attaining the goals of "Cosmetology & Oro Facial Surgery" will be dependent upon your support as researchers, clinicians and readers. We are delighted to invite you to join this scientific network and support this new journal by submitting your invaluable and interesting manuscripts. We eagerly look forward your responses to our invitation.
